

This contract is subject to termination at any time without prior notice. The parties acknowledge and accept penalties for breach of contract. In the event of a dispute, arbitration shall be the primary method of resolution, but either party may pursue a lawsuit through the court system.

The jurisdiction for all legal action shall be exclusively in the State of Exampleland. The parties agree to be liable for damages resulting from failure to comply with the terms outlined herein. A non-compete clause will remain effective for two years post-termination.

In the event of any ambiguous language or contradiction in the contract, the governing law will favor the party that did not draft the agreement. This document includes provisions that may result in legal action should disputes arise from the interpretation or enforcement of terms.
